

F112 & F113 Portable Media Air Cleaners Honeywell

Honeywell Commercial Air Products
Featuring Hepa-Flow CPZ™ Technology

The F112 and F113 are highly effective, cost efficient systems for capturing airborne particles and VOCs in your facility

- Operating quietly and unobtrusively, you'll find these units inside salons, offices, daycare centers, and classrooms-anywhere particles and odors are a problem.
- Two models are available, with different airflow capacities. Both feature a tough case, a maintenance free motor with sealed bearings, and "no tools" access to air filters and CPZ™ sorbent media.
- These lightweight, room size commercial air cleaners include a built in handle which lets you easily carry them to wherever cleaner air is needed.
- The operation of the F112 and F113 Portable Air Cleaners is quiet and unobtrusive. This makes the portable a perfect option for many different types of applications.

F112 and F113 99.97% HEPA filters

- The smaller F112 unit moves air at up to 150 CFM; the larger F113 unit up to 300 CFM. Both feature 360° airflow, a process that ensures cleaner air is recirculated throughout the room.
- Maintenance is a breeze. No tools are required to open the case and replace filters. The whole process can be done in a few minutes.
- The F112A, F113A: For capturing High levels of Particles only. Includes 99.97% Efficiency HEPA filter.
- The F112C, F113C: For Capturing High levels of Particles PLUS odors. Includes 99.97% Efficiency HEPA filter, and CPZ™ sorbent media.

Particles aren't always the problem

Anywhere gases, odors and volatile organic compounds (VOCs) are a part of doing business – you'll want an air cleaner that includes CPZ™ sorbent media. Honeywell CPZ™ sorbent media is specifically formulated for maximum efficiency at reducing a broad range of gases-odors-VOCs.

Applications

You will find the F112 and F113 Commercial Portable Air Cleaners in "room size" spaces where particle counts are typically high and odors are present due to the nature of your business.
